

Bob John Hoffman

29th April 1948 – 29th June 2025

For Bob

He sang life's tune to "My Way's" beat,
A loveable larrikin, loud and sweet.
If the punt went bad, he'd jokingly say,
"Bread and milk's price'll rise today!"

The pub's loudest laugh, the warmest grin,
He'd gather friends, draw strangers in.
Generous heart, arms open wide,
Straddie's shores his pride and guide.

A drink, a yarn, a welcome cheer,
With Bob, all felt family here.
He lived to bring us close, unite -
A shining soul, a blazing light.
