

When I'm Gone

Mosiah Lyman Hancock

When I come to the end of my journey
And I travel my last weary mile
Just forget if you can, that I ever frowned
And remember only the smile
Forget unkind words I have spoken
Remember some good I have done
Forget that I ever had heartache
And remember I've had loads of fun
Forget that I've stumbled and blundered
And sometimes fell by the way
Remember I have fought some hard battles
And won, ere the close of the day
Then forget to grieve for my going
I would not have you sad for a day
But in summer just gather some flowers
And remember the place where I lay
And come in the shade of evening
When the sun paints the sky in the west
Stand for a few moments beside me
And remember only my best

Like the car he drove, he passed us in the fast lane of life, driving straight through all of our hearts. He lived fast, he loved hard, he laughed loud — and when his engine stopped, he went on ahead, speeding down the road of eternal rest.

Thank you for being here today, for your love, your support, and every mile you travelled with him. Please carry his memory forward: live boldly, love loudly, and don't forget to enjoy the ride. We are deeply grateful.

We warmly invite you to continue sharing memories and refreshments at one of Dennis' favourite places, the Redlands Horse & Pony Club.
